AIR MAIL PILOT GILBERT DROPS TO DEATH IN STORM

Kanoville, Ill., Dec. 22 (INS.)—Lying beside the wrecked plane in which he had attempted to battle his battle his way westward through the blinding snow, the body of Charles Gilbert, air mail pilot, was found in a cornfield here today—the toll of the air mail service to the storm.

Clinging to the body was a part of the plane's parachute, indicating, air mail men said, that Gilbert had attempted to leap clear of the falling plane and that the parachute had failed to open. The body and plane were found after more than 12 hours search in which hundreds of residents of the countryside near here, roused by long distance telephone calls from the Chicago air mail field, joined, the territory in this vicinity was scoured throughout a night of bitter cold but it remained for men in the McGirr emergency landing field nearly to discover the reckage of the plane.

TWO FIRES AT MADERA

Madera, Pa., Dec. 22.—The Madera Fire Company had occasion to try out for the first time there recently installed electric siren fire alarm, when fire was discovered about 11:30 Sunday night in the barn of Matthew Glute. The fire spread so rapidly that the barn was totally destroyed, entailing a loss of perhaps [illegible].

The alarm was again sounded about [illegible] this morning for a fire at the store building of a Mr. Wardo, near the residence of John Wilkinson, about one mile from town. The store and contents went up in smoke but the firemen rendered valuable assistance in saving other property.

SCHWAB GIVES SIX SOUND ECONOMIC REASONS FOR ANTICIPATING GRAND AND GLORIOUS PROSPERITY IN 1925

By W. S. COUSINS
I. N. S. Stac Correspondent.
(Copyright, 1924, International News Service)

New York, Dec. 20—The United States will be the real workshop of the world said Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, in outlining for International [illegible] today the reason why he looks for a national and general prosperity throughout the United States such as we have not witnessed for several years. Schwab bases his optimistic prediction on six important factors: High wages, good farm prices, economy in production of manufactured articles, the recovery of the railroads, high volume of building and a government on safe and sane lines.

"As reasons for prosperity next year," said Schwab, "we have:

"1. High wages for labor. As a whole wages were maintained at constant levels last summer and fall even in the face of considerably reduced production; with rates of production increasing high wages will give a strong underlying buying power.

"2. Good farm prices. The farmer's dollar has been low in purchasing power for some time. Increasing prices for farm products will mean good business for those industries which sell directly or indirectly to our great farm population.

"3. Manufacturers have spent the last two or three years studying their costs of production with a view to enabling the consumer to buy at the lowest possible prices. Unnecessary costs are being eliminated, methods of distribution improved. With even fair operations manufacturers should show fair profits on their investments.

"4. The railroads are recovering from the unusual stress put upon them during and after the War. Operating ratios are again in proper relation to income. The railroads are putting larger expenditures into upkeep which means a demand for a wide range of manufactured products.

"I think the public is beginning to have more confidence in the management of the railroads Certainly the railroads are providing a service which deserves the support or every wage earner in the country.

"Five—Experts predict that the total volume of building will continue at somewhere near its present levels and that automobile production will be equal to if not beyond the very large figures of 1924.

"Six—The American people showed by their vote in November that they were in favor of government along safe and sane channels that have been tried by time and found true. This edict of the people has given both confidence and impetus to business men all over the country to go ahead with production and normal expansion.

"With such a wide diversification of favorable business signs," Schwab continued, the expectations for the coming year speak for themselves. A busines sstructure built on activity in every industry means national prosperity and good times.

"The natural resources of the United States are incomparably greater than those of any other country in the world. God has endowed us with a patriotic people that will make use of these resources. The questions of the war have been forgotten. Aristocracy today is not made up of the men of wealth, birth or position. The real aristocrat is the man who does something good for his fellowmen."

LATE ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS ON AUGHINBAUGH FUND

The Aughinbaugh fund raised by the people of Glen Richey and vicinity amounted to $52.75, certainly a wonderful outpouring of real charity when it is considered that the people of Glen Richey have not been fortunate the past few months in opportunity for working.

The Progress offiae acknowledges and has placed to the credit of Mr. Aughinbangh the following contribution handed to us since the last publication:

Clearfield Fire Co. No. 1 by Hayse Sutton	$10.00

Weather Bureau Makes A Promise Of Snow And A Slowly Rising Mercury

Pittsburgh, Pa., Dec. 22 (INS.)—Icebound in the grip of the coldest weather of the winter, Western Pennsylvania was promised some relief by the Weather Bureau's prediction of snow and warmer today. The temperature dropped to 10 above zero yesterday and 13 above today, the coldest for this date since 1901.

A light snow fell in Pittsburgh this morning bringing slightly higher temperatures.

A score of fires over the week end kept firemen busy, and their bodies numb from freezing weather. Mrs. Sarah Englander, 29, was fatally burned when she poured oil on a coal fire in her husband's tailor shop.

YORK COUNTY FIRST TO ADOPT PROGRAM FOR PROGRESSIVE SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Clearfield County Sunday Schools might profit by the example of York in adopting a plan outlined by the State Sabbath School Association and putting it to work.

It's during the season betwcen Christmas and Easter that our minds naturally turn to the Savior and with a desire to help receive these blessings a definite program of the Sabbath School and Church would help accomplish there larger results, for a a rule there are as many anxious sinners seeking Christ as there are anxious Christians seking sinners and for reason of special emphasis the State Association suggests.

Sunday, January 4th, a Week of Prayer.

Sunday, January 11th, Organization Day, the beginning of special training classes.

Sunday, February 15th, Lincoln Day winning the foreigner.

Wednesday, February 25th, Ash Wednesday, self denial and service.

Sunday, March 29th, Decision Day in Sabbath School and Church.

Sunday, April 5th, Palm Sunday Church Affiliation Day.

Sunday, April 12th, Easter, Glorifying God.

Sunday April 19th, Conservation Day, assign each one a task and announce organization and program for continuous Evangelistic Services.

In the city of York was held, simultaneously in different parts of the city, four meetings, all denominations being represented. Pastors presided but those back of these gatherings were laymen.

The hope is to have every Sunday School adopt this plan and especially in the adult classes that a definite goal be set covering the whole campaign up until Easter.

Inasmuch as Christmas is time for giving, not only of material gifts, but of giving ones self for greater service for Him who was the greatest gift of all, it is suggested that it would be a splendid time for similar effort right here in our own county.

VANCE McCORMICK TO WED

Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 22 (INS.)—Announcement was made here today of the engagement of Mrs. Gertrude Howard Olnsted, daughter of the Major and Mrs. Conway Robinson Howard, Richmond, Va., to Vance Criswell McCormick, Pennsylvania publisher.

Mrs. Olnsted is the widow of Martin E. Olnsted, who served as Congressman from this district. She lives at 105 North Front street.

Mr. McCormick was former Mayor of Harrisburg; candidate for Governor in 1914; National chairman of the Democratic party in 1916, and president of the war trade board, under the late Woodrow Wilson. He also captained a Yale football team in the 90's.

Mr. Clyde Lynch is confined to his home on 5th street with the grippe.

LANGSFOR, PA., LAD 13, HANGS SELF

8 DIED IN PLUNGE OF "SOO" DINER TO ICY RIVER BENEATH

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Dec. 22 (INS.)—The first of three investigations into the fatal Soo Line passenger train wreck here neared completion today when a coroner's jury was empannelled to fix responsibility for the toll of eight dead and seven injured. Testimony which will be presented, it is said, will tend to show that the accident was caused by a defective switch bolt which splintered as the first cars of the heavy train passed over it allowing the dining car to "split" the switch, leave rails and plunge over the nearby embankment fifty feet into the Chippewa river. It seems unlikely that any person would be held criminally liable for the disaster although it was indicated the coroner's probe may lean toward an inquiry as to the inspection of the rails.

Preliminary examination of the rails, it was said, indicated that the intense cold may have been responsible for the breaking of the bolt. The switch knife, officials of the road said, had been replaced only two days before.

The casualties were definitely established, early today with the raising of the death car from the Chippewa river after two days of work in the biting cold.

Who Wins?

An important process for "exploding" bacteria is being held back from the world while two men argue over who made the discovery. They are Dr. Winford Larson (above) of the University of Minnesota and David Crowther (below), an English mechanic attached to the dental laboratories of the same school. The patent office has supported Crowther's claims, but Judge J. F. Smith of the U. S. Court of Custom Appeals has held in favor of Dr. Larson. The case has been in the courts for six years.

Hundred Women Battle for Her

fatherless and deserted by her father, but little Constance Ellen Black's ewitching smile brought more than 100 mothers to a Chicago court room a battle for the privilege of giving her a home. Mrs. John T. Agar, wife of a wealthy Chicago packer, won out.

Petitions for Franchises have also been received from Dayton, Zanesville, Akron, New Castle, Uniontown, Fort Wayne, and Parkersburg, and a committee is to visit each of these cities to select two more franchise holders in the league.

William T. McCullough, former Secretary of the Pitstburgh Federal League team was elected President and Secretary of the new league, and a Board of directors will be chosen in two weeks.

Hans Wagner, famous shortstop of the Pittsburgh Pirates will be sought as manager of the Youngstown team, according to shoemaker.

GAVE TEACHER GOLD WATCH

John Buchanan, who teaches the Frank G. Harris class at Trinity Sunday School was presented with a handsome gold watch as a Christmas gift yesterday. The presentation was made by Sheriff Thomas J. Lowell. In accepting the gift Mr. Buchanan promised to be on hand every Sabbath morning promptly at 9:30 o'clock. The Sheriff also advised him to have the watch safely anchored to his vest when he did arrive and anyone perusing the class roll will not wonder at the Sheriff's thoughtfulness.

Miss Helen Harley, recently a surgical patient at the Clearfield Hospital, is recovering nicely at her home on South Fourth street.

Washington, Dec. 22 (INS)—Samuel Gompers, late President of the American Federation of Labor, left an estate whose value is slightly less than $30,000, according to a preliminary survey made by the executors.

A contest over the two wills left by the dead labor leader loomed up today because of Gompers' execution of a second will, only five weeks before his death, in which he cut his widow off with "the minimum amount under the law." Lawyers for Mrs. Gompers said she would contest the probate of the second will.

The estate consisted of cash and personal effects valued at $10,000, and real estate amounting almost to $20,000. Under the last will the widow will get one third of this, the rest going to Gompers children and grand children.

Members of the family declined today to discuss the domestic circumsances that prompted Gompers to make a second will, but admitted that the aged labor leader and his bride of a few years had not been "happy" in the months preceding his death. Mrs. Gompers was thirty years younger than her husband. They were married in 1921.

Mrs. Chalmers Hyskell and Mrs. James Rafferty of Gramplan were Christmas shoppers on Saturday.

100 YEARS ARE LIVED BY WOMAN WHO WAS BORN IN CLEARFIELD

The sturdy pioneer people who settled in Lawrence township in the latter part of the eighteenth century and did their full part toward carving this wonderful county of Clearfield out of the then dense, trackless wilderness, were strongly constitutioned, strong-limbed and a sturdy lot, while many of the progeny have been blessed with the strength, virility and longevity of their hardy ancestors. Of the descendants of these pioneers, the lately deceased Mrs. Anne Gulich Heisey was the first to live to pass the century mark and passed away last year at the age of 104 years.

Through the courtesy of Mrs. Dal Thompson of Spruce street, we are privileged to present to our readers a story concerning the celebration on June 28, 1924, of the one hundredth birthday of Mrs. Hannah B. McMullin, of Tekamah, near Craig, Nebraska, another descendant of one of Clearfield county's pioneer families, which was among Lawrence township's first settlers. Mrs. McMullin's mother is said to have been the first white female child born in Clearfield county.

Mrs. McMullin was one of a family of 17 children. Her father was Matthew Ogden, son of Daniel, son of David, son of Richard, son of John Ogden, of Yorkshire, England.

Mrs. McMullin was born in Clearfield, June 28, 1824. In 1864, when 40 years of age, she was suffering from ill health and moved to Nebraska. For 57 years she lived in Fontanelle vicinity where she was very active. For nine years she has been unable to walk and has moved about in her chair. Her memory is better on far past events than on present day affairs, which is usual with elderly people. Five generations, including her only living son, A. O. McMullin, her great grandchildren and great great grandchildren were present on this occasion. She has living 72 great grandchildren and four great great grandchildren. Three of her children and four grandchildren have "passed on."

Mrs. McMullin was a sister of Judge Ogden, father of Jonathan Ogden of Mt. Zion and Mrs. W. W. Watson, of Spruce street, and has many relatives in this vicinity.

ELKIN'S ANTIPATHY TO BJORNSTAD DATES BACK TO PERSONAL QUARREL HAD DURING ARMY DAYS IN FRANCE

Washington, Dec. 22. (INS.)—Ex-soldiers will appreciate the paradox of justice or injustice in this story.

It happened in France.

The war was all over and companions in arms were going back to their plowshares.

The adjutant of the 13th Infantry brigade of the Seventh Division was bidding goodbye to his commanding general.

They didn't shake hands.

Now the adjutant, then major but now Senator Davis Elkins, Republican of West Virginia, blocked the promotion of Colonel, but then Brigadier General Alfred W. Bjornstad, to be permanent brigadier general, before the Senate military affairs committee.

"I hope to have the pleasure some time of preventing you from ever receiving a higher appointment," Major Elkins is supposed to have said—and now he's gratifying that "pleasure."

Senator Elkins has announced that he will file charges against Colonel Bjornstad to prevent the promotion going into effect. Outside of the intimation that it was because of their personal relations in the same command in France, Senator Elkins has made no statement as to what the charges will be.

Offsetting whatever the charge may be is Colonel Bjornstad's record:

Entered the army as a first lieutenant, 13th Minnesota Infantry, on May 7, 1898 and served throughout the Philippine insurrection, being awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for extraordinary heroism near Manila. Although wounded he commanded the firing line at a critical stage of the combat and stayed on the line even after being wounded again.

Continued in the regular army, reaching the permanent grade of colonel on July 1, 1920.

During the world war served thru the grades to temporary brigadier general, including service as chief of staff of the 30th Division, chief of staff of the 3rd Corps, and commanding general of the 13th Brigade.

Since the war has served as commanding officer at Fort Snelling, Minnesota, at the army war college, and at the infantry school.

He received the Distinguished Service Medal for exceptionally meritorious and distinguished service during the world war for the organization and conduct of the army general staff college at Langres, which provided officers in a minimum of time. He has also received the Order of St. Michael and St. George, Legion of Honor, French Croix de Guerre, and the Order of Asoldiridad.

The Senate will decide.

In the Courts

Oscar Mannion, former Constable of Bigler township, who resides in the notorious moonshine district of Atlantic, midway between Houtzdale and Madera, who has been flirting with the county jail for the past couple of years, finally succeeded in getting himself behind the bars. Mannion, a Cambria county product, came into the Madera country several years ago and embarked in the livery business. He was an energetic fellow and a hardworker, and, being a good mixer, was soon well enough thought of to be elected Constable of the township. The Volstead and Snyder laws proved to be Mannion's undoing and no sooner had the "easy money" made by the moonshiner and bootlegger begun to fly about than Mannion decided to get some of it. According to all reports from that community he was not the least bit finicky about how or when he got it. It wasn't long until he became a purveyor or transporter of the vile stuff and was picked up by the State Police over near Altoona with five gallons of white mule in his car. More through fool's luck than good management Mannion escaped punishment for this crime, but his arrest evidently did not rekindle the fires of respect for law in his breast.

Last October Oscar Smeal, of Irvona, died in a car en route to Houtzdale after drinking from a quart of Moonshine, which he had in his possession after coming from Mannion's home at Atlantic, where he went for the purpose of securing the liquor and which he said was procured "from Oscar."

Mannion was indicted for violation of the liquor law on information made by County Coroner Pollum, following the Coroner's inquest into the death of Smeal. He was placed on trial for this crime in criminal court Saturday afternoon and on account of his belief that Mannion was a force for evil in his home community and should be taught respect for the law, ex-District Attorney Arnold volunteered to assist District Attorney Edwards, in the prosecution.

It was the last case on the list and the jury very promptly returned a verdict of guilty of manufacturing, possession and furnishing liquor.

Mannion had been tried Saturday morning by Messrs Arnold and Edwards on the charge of issuing a fradulent check, the complaining witness being Oreste Paolucci who sold Mannion $60 worth of near beer in September last, paying for same with a check on the Juniata Bank, which check went to protest and was never paid by Mannion. Near beer, with a shot of shine to put the devil i nit ,is a much sought beverage up in Mannion's home country 'tis said. The jury in this case also returned a verdict of guilty.

Mannion will spend the next ten months in jail. Judge Chase sentenced him to pay $1.00 fine and costs and serve six months on the fraudulent check charge and gave him an additional four months for violating the liquor law.

P. A. Helms is confined to his home with grippe.

Mrs. C. H. Fontenoy of Karthaus, and daughter Dorothy, of Clearfield, spent Sunday in Curwensville. They are visiting friends and relatives in Clearfield today.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Not content with the beauty simplicity of expression of the Old Testament a Chicago University Professor and his college students are making a new and high brow translation to give it, as they style it, tonal quality and complete rythm. They advance various reasons for the "improvement" and upliift. Under their artistic touch the valley of the shadow of death becomes "the darkest ravine"; still waters become "refreshing waters", and the "comfort" of the "rod" and "staff" is left out in a translation of the Twenty-third Psalm made by the University of Chicago scholars under Prof. J. M. P. Smith given out today.

The work is a part of a new translation of the entire Old Testament now being prepared at the University

Prof Smith's statement said that the translation is accurate and that many portions of the Testament had been rephrased in an effort to preserve the original meaning and the poetic quality of the original. The translation of the Twenty-third Psalm follows:

The Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want;
In green meadows He makes me lie down;
To refreshing water He leads me.
He renews my life.
He guids me in safe paths for His name's sake.
Even though I walk in the darkest ravine,
I fear no harm; for Thou art with me.
Inou layest a table before me in the presence of my foes;
Thou anointest my head with oil; my cup overflows.
Only goodness and mercy will follow me all the days of my life,
And I shall dwell in the house of the Lord down to old age.

The book of Job and a third of the Book of Psalms have been completed Prof. Smith's announcement said, and the entire Testament will be finished in about a year and a half.

"Modern scholars today," the statement said, "have a more complete knowledge of the Hebrew tongue than those of a hundred years ago. Not only the Psalms but the other books as well are poetry of the highest and purest form. They require accurate translation if the poetic quality is to be preserved."

Because the Old Testament is the work of so many different authors, different translators have been assigned to the various texts. They are, in addition to Prof. Smith, A. R. Gordon of McGill University, Montreal; T. J. Meek of the University of Toronto and Leroy Waterman of the University of Michigan.

The Thursday evening bridge club had a very delightful dinner and Bridge at the home of Mrs. Henry Rhine on West Third avenue. Each member was presented with a lovely Christmas gift from the club. High score was held by Mrs. Clarence Mitchell, second high Mrs. Paul Stauffer.

HIGH TEMPLES

Brooklyn, N. Y., "city of churches", is following Chicago's example in building a skyscraper church. There is nothing new in the height. Temples have always been high, ever since mankind stopped worshipping on bare hilltops and under lofty oaks and started building towers, pagodas and cathedrals. The novelty consists in constructing a religious edifice that can be put to practical use all the way up.

The famous Chicago skyscraper church seems to be really an office building with a church on top. The Brooklyn church presumably will follow about the same plan. It is to have 14 stories, affording room not only for religious assembly and for all the varied church activities but also for worldly business. The building will be crowned with a spire to indicate its spiritual function otherwise there will not be much perceptible difference from surrounding structures.

This may come to be the dominant type of religious edifice in the future, in big cities, where land is expensive. It is an example that small cities need not imitate. Churches have been, heretofore, the most beautiful structures in the world. It would be a pity to change that now.

THE EDUCATIONAL BOOM

Education is certainly booming in this country, especially the higher education. Millionaires are pouring money into colleges as they formerly poured it into railroads, mines and factories.

The recent gifts of James B. Duke and George Eastman are merely the most spectacular of a deluge of similar gifts.

The colleges, universities, museums and other instutitions benefittde are not at all coy about accepting money. They meet the givers more than half way. If it is true that never in history has such treasure been poured into education, it is truer still that never has education had the nerve to ask for so much. There seems to be hardly a college or university in America, of all the hundreds the country boasts, that is not engaged in an ambitious campaign for new buildings and larger endowment.

There is a new phase, too, in this demand for educational funds. It is the effort of cities to create universities of their own. City after city is seeking millions to enlarge a struggling young university or create a brand-new one.

In nearly every case the effort is succeeding. The general public is in a liberal mood, and gives, like the multi-millionaire, according to its ability, for the advancement of learning.

If money can make culture, this should be the most cultured of nations in another generation or two.

IF YOU MUST CLING

By FLOORENCE DAVIES

If you've simply got to cling to somebody or something, hunt up an old ruin or a piece of stage scenery and cling to that. But don't cling to a good, live, useful, growing active person. You'll only cramp his style and finally wreck him.

That, at least, is the conclusion one is bound to come to after reading the final decision of architects about the graceful ivy.

Ivy, no matter how lovely, is not for stone walls that you expect to stand up and carry a load.

Any good stone wall can carry its load of ivy for a few centuries. Then after that the ivy wins and the stone wall goes down. So if you must have ivy, plant it by a ruin or a wall which isn't in the active business of being a stout wall.

For ivy sends its delicate tendrils into the cracks and crevices of the wall, sucks the moisture out of the mortar which holds the stones together and finally, not age, but the ivy make, the building crumble.

And yet there are women who will argue that so delicate a thing as a little ivy tendril could never destroy a great stone wall or a massive cathedral. They are the same women who think that a clinging vine of a woman is not a hindrance but a graceful adjunct to a strong man. There are even men, in fact, who rather enjoy playing the heroic role of stone wall for some fragile woman whose delicate little fingers cling to him as tenaciously as ivy clings to a massive cathedral.

The feminists decided long ago that the clinging vine was no role for a woman to play. But they decided it for their own sakes, because they wanted to live their own lives. Had they been thinking of the men, they would have seen that many a big life has been cramped because of too much clinging, and the gentler and sweeter the [illegible] of the vine the more subtle is their hold.

You know man who have in them possibilities of really big achievement who have been weakened like the walls of an old stone structure because some little vine clings too close, cramps that freedom of action and independence of spirit which any man must have who takes his place in the world of affairs today.

Sometimes it's a spiritual thing, a kind of possessing tenderness which is all sweetness and sentiment but [illegible] cramps [illegible] and holds with bands of steel.

And sometimes it is nothing so subtle; sometimes the clinging vine merely makes a kind of glorified butler of her man by making him bring home the chops for dinner.

Well, these clinging vines get what they create, men who are baffled in their professions but who let themselves be absorbed and possessed by love or sentiment or domestic details.

But why not take a tip from the architects, and if you must be an ivy vine find some piece of stage scenery some purely ornamental ruin to cling to and don't cramp the style of a man with possibilities for real growth and strength and achievement.

Fastidious Bears.

Bears, especially those of the white species, are rather fastidious about their toilets. They [illegible] comb their hair with their [illegible] and lick themselves to make their hair shine.

A Carnum of Finance.

"They tell me that every minute there is a fool born into the world," said the old swindler. "And," he added piously, "I thank God, some of 'em live."—Town Topics (London).

PENNSY-GRAMS

Philadelphia, Dec. 22 (INS.)—Awaiting a hearing, two women and three men are held in jail today without bail, charged with highway robbery. Barbara Richards and Isabella MacDonald, both about 22, lured Ralph Lombardo and John McKerney, salesmen, from New York, into an automobile yesterday, according to police, drove them to a lonely spot where the girls met their three accomplices. While the three men held the New Yorkers the girls stripped their victims of overcoats and $180 in cash, McKerney reported to police. Four hours later the quintet was apprehended by detectives in an automobile.

Birdsboro, Dec. 22 (INS.)—Edward J. Wesley, of this city, must report to authorities today in connection with the death of Mrs. Irma Bednarik, 26, who was hit by an automobile yesterday while she was walking along the Morgantown road near her with her arms filled with Christmas gifts. Mrs. Bednarik died four hours later at a hospital. Westley reported the accident to the police who told him to return to court today.

Pittsburgh, Penn., Dec. 22 (INS.)—Held in the county jail today after having surrendered himself, seventeen-year-old Andrew Grohol's manliness may win him his freedom, jail officials said today.

The youth came to the jail because he had cashed a check for $10.50 found on the street. When he spent the money on Christmas candy and toys for his five younger brotners he told police his father ordered him out of their home after discovering where he got the money.

Andrew said he had not known it was wrong to cash the check until his father told him, and he immediately surrendered. The man who lost the check refused to prosecute, and prison officials said he is only being held on a formality until release papers are signed.

Philadelphia, Dec. 22 (INS.)—Mrs. Mary Gaston of Bridgeport, Conn., is being held by authorities here today without bail, to await action of the coroner in connection with the death of Walter F. Ballinger, 57, noted architect. Mr. Ballinger, who suffered a fractured skull Friday when his car collided with the automobile driven by Mrs. Gaston during a dense fog, died yesterday.

Mrs. Gaston, with her husband and children were driving to Florida where Gaston hoped to obtain employment when the accident occurred. She was arrested Friday and held in $600 bail for further hearing. After Ballinger's death yesterday she was re-arrested.

Ballinger was born at Petroleum Center, Venango county.

RESOLUTIONS

Whereas, The great and supreme Ruler of the universe has in his infinite wisdom removed from among us one of our worthy and esteemed Brother Firemen, Ed. B. Chase; and whereas, the long and intimate relation held with him in the faithful discharge of his duties in this organization makes it eminently befitting that we record our appreciation of him; therefore,

Resolved: That the wisdom and ability which he has exercised in the affairs of our organization by service, contributions and counsel, will be held in grateful remembrance.

Resolved: That the sudden removal of such life from among our midst leaves a vacancy and a shadow that will be deeply realized by all the members and friends of this organization and will prove a serious loss to the community and the public.

Resolved, That with deep sympathy with the bereaved relatives of the deceased we express our hope; that even so great a loss to all may be overruled for good by Him who doeth all things well.

Resolved: That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the records of the organization, a copy printed in the local paper and a copy forwarded to the bereaved family.

When a failure finds himself up a tree he figures right away it must be a tree with thorns on it

But when a success finds himself up a tree he knows it will bear fruit some day.

Life's so amusing. If you find yourself up a tree hang out a few ornaments and make it a Christmas tree.

We find the so-called blushing bride usually looks like "Now see what I have gone and done"

An optimist is a man who invites a gang of people over to have a dance by his new radio set.

Only five months until we will be wishing it was winter again.

While woman's place may be in the home her daughter's place seems to be out in the auto.

The highest explosive on earth is made by uniting a selfish man with a woman who has a quick temper.

The giggling girl at the foolish age settles down later. It is all a triumph of mind over chatter.

Fifty seems old only to those who are younger. The same is true of twenty, thirty and forty.

The year 1924 wasn't exactly what we expected it to be, but then we all knew it wouldn't be.

Curwensville's Own Column

The members of the E. C. Weber Sunday school class gathered at his home in a surprise party last Friday evening and presented him with a fine umbrella as a token of appreciation. Some eighteen persons were present and were royally entertained during the evening by the pleased host and hostess.

Miss Mable Leonard entertained at her Ridge avenue home on Saturday evening a number of friends. The guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. David Burkett, who will soon leave for the South.

Orville King, son of Dr. H O. King, attending lectures in Jefferrson Medical College, Phila., came home Saturday and will spend Christmas in the old home.

Miss Sara Karstetter, who is employed in Pittsburgh, is home and will spend the holiday week in Curwensville.

Mr. and Mrs. James Maxwell, living at Bradford, Pa., are expected to arrive in Curwensville in plenty of time to eat Christmas dinner with Mrs. Maxwell's parents, Mr. and Mrs Webb Karstetter.

Mrs. Chas. Irvin and Mrs. Gus P. Johnstone, both residents of Philadelphia and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ai McNaul, dropped into their their native town and old home in order to spend a portion of the Chirstmas holidays with the old folks.

Some Curwensville merchants are worrying considerably of the non-appearance of those 1925 calendars they subscribed for and paid for an ad thereon. The soliciting and money collected was done by a lady who claimed to represent the Presbyterian church and with the sanction of the same. It may turn out all right, and the subscribers are living in hope that it will, but—

Mr. William Robinson, of Pittsburgh, came in Saturday night for a Christmas dinner with his mother and sisters Misses Emma, Ida and Ruth Robinson.

Mrs. George Snittell's Sunday School class of the Presbyterian church, will have charge of the Christmas tree at the Children's Home near Clearfield. Anyone who desires to contribute trimmings for the tree or small gifts, can leave them at the home of Miss Jesse Pifer Thompson street not later than Tuesday evening.

An entertainment by the students of the Presbyterian Sunday school will be given in that edifice on Thursday evening.

Curwensville received its share of that cold western blizzard Saturday night and a part of Sunday, yet despite the biting wind and low temperature, all the churches were well and comfortably filled during the morning services. The Sabbath schools were a little shy on usual attendance when the weather was more moderate, yet the Christmas treat thought was uppermost in the minds of youngsters and they managed to plod along to be present in their respective classes the last Sabbath at least before Christmas.

Miss Donna E. Newcomer R. N., of Brooklyn, N. Y., arrived home Friday evening to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Newcomer.

Mrs. M. P. Newcomer and daughter Mrs. Lorna Lowthers were doing their Chrismtas shopping in Clearfield stores Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Everett and daughter Mrs. Oscar Neeper, were shopping and transacting business in Clearfield Friday.

Mrs. Ed Norris and Miss Lucile Hipps were shopping in Clearfield stores Friday.

Imagination Always Working.

Cherish Aspirations.

An aspiration is a joy forever, a possession as solid as a landed estate, a fortune which we can never exhaust and which gives us year by year a revenue of pleasurable activity. To have many of these is to be spiritually rich.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Happy Men.

I had been working in my garden. The sun was just below the horizon and the dew was already on the smooth green walks bordered by sweet-smelling roses and carnations. The stillness of the evening was broken only by the whistling of a blackbird. I sat down on a rude seat I had formed beneath an old tree, and, as I thought of the fruits and plants that were ripening around me, I exclaimed to myself, "How happy, if they knew it, are they that till the ground."—William Barnes.

Steam Truck Coke for Fuel.

A Grievous Mistake.

At Jim Rose's boarding house is a fellow all out o' humor. He does his own mending—likes to do it. Hasn't a wife to do it for him, so just does it himself. But what he's angry about is—well, he has reason for feeling a bit feverish in temperature. The other day he made the mistake of cutting a leg from his Sunday trousers to patch a pair of old ones.—Exchange.

It Can Be Overdone.

"Sometimes," said Uncle Eben, "when a man tries to put on airs he gits hisse'f all mussed up 'cause he ain' satisfied wif nuffin less dan a hurricane."

Cement for China.

Dissolve one large tablespoonful of gum arabic in one-quarter cupful of warm water (it must be rather thick). Put in enough plaster of paris to make a thick paste. Apply at once to broken china before the paste has time to set. In half an hour the china will be firm.

Handel's Messiah.

Handel wrote his great oratorio, the "Messiah," in twenty-four days. He puts into music, which has been called the language of angels, the glorious story of the Gospel. "I did think, I did see all Heaven before me, and the great God Himself," he said, after writing the immortal Hallelujah Chorus.

Mending China.

Flake white, ordinary oil paint, will mend china. Be sure that there is no dust on the china. Then put a little flake white on one broken piece and hold it tightly against the other. Then put the broken dish aside for ten days or two weeks while the flake white hardens.

INTER-CHURCH BOWLING LEAGUE

By winning three straight games from the Lutheran Quintet, the East End Methodist Bowlers take a tie with the strong Trinity Methodist team. They fortunately have a contest tonight with the latter team and no doubt this interesting contest will end in the breaking of the tie. Both Captains Palmer Weimer and Clifford Knepp have their best bowlers groomed for the battle and expect victory.

The closing contest of the first series is between the Lutheran and St. Francis aggregations on Tuesday night. This will also have some effect in the standing. The second series of the Inter-church League opens on the Y. M. C. A. alleys Jan. 1st.

All bowlers of Senior age, interested in the "Duck Pin" contest, on New Year's Day should register at once. Single tournament in the morning and doubles in the afternoon.

When Leaves Fall.

Below each side bud on the hickory twig is a triangular scar marked with heavy dots, says Nature Magazine. Last year's leaves left these scars when they fell. They were careful enough, however, to heal the wound before they fell, otherwise the tree would suffer from the loss of sap as you would from the loss of blood when wounded.

The Lion of Lucerne, work of Thorwaldsen, was executed in 1821 in memory of 20 officers and 760 soldiers of the Swiss guards, who fell defending the Tolleries on August 10, 1782.

Better Performance In Your Car

—and less up-keep cost

It's the reinsulation bill you have to pay later, that makes the bargain battery expensive to own.

That's why we recommend a Threaded Rubber Battery and stand back of its insulation for the entire life of the plates.

"A bargain is a bargain when you gain by it, and you're nicked all the time when you have a Willard Threaded Rubber Battery," says Little Ampere.

Please Co-Operate With Us During The Cold Weather

In the first place, please take your full milk bottles in the house as soon after the wagonman makes his deliveries as possible. Milk does not improve by the freezing and you'll find it will be better if it does not.

Please See That Bottles Are Dry Before You Place Them On the Porch

Most people place their milk tickets in the bottles on the porch. If the bottle is wet, the tickets freeze tight and there is a possibility of the person operating the bottle-washing machine in the plant, cutting his or her hands very badly trying to rescue your ticket.

London, Dec. 22 (INS.)—Ramsey MacDonald, formerly Laborite premier of Great Britain, got aboard a ship today and literally left the world behind him.

He was bound for Jamaica and Panama for a vacation, vowing that he would not so much as open a letter while there.

"I'm going to kick up my heels in the air and get some recreation," said MacDonald, who was worn to a frazzle by the cares of the office he relinquished recently to Stanley Baldwin. "I'm just going to rest."
